

TIME	SESSION	SPEAKERS	BIO	DESCRIPTION
10:00 AM	Welcome	Speaker: Shiraz Ahmad	International Director, Faith For Our Planet
		Speaker: Professor Peter Scott	Director of Lincoln Theological Institute; University of Manchester
10:30 AM	Systems Thinking (Workshop)	Speaker: Dr. Nafeez Ahmed	Director of the System Shift Lab. Former Director of Global Research Communications, RethinkX; systems theorist, change strategist, and investigative journalist. Special Investigations and Global Trends Reporter at Byline Times. Advisor on System Change at the Global Assembly	This session will introduce the concept of 'systems thinking', positioning climate change as part of a systemic crisis. Participants will explore crucial questions pertaining to how we have arrived at this point, and how worldview (ethical and moral paradigms) has shaped our relationship with the environment. The session will also briefly touch upon technology disruptions in the climate space and their implications. The second part of this session will be used to reflect on what religious leaders bring to the climate action movement through context they operate in.
12:15 AM	Creating the Agency (Lecture and Q&A)	Speaker: Professor Chris Rapley	Professor of Climate Science, University College London; Chair of the European Science Foundation's European Space Sciences Committee, Patron of the Surrey Climate Commission; Member of the UK Clean Growth Fund Advisory Board	Various communities sometimes find their climate action initiatives "stuck". Based on the work of the UCL Climate Action Unit, this session will elaborate on ways faith groups and organizations can address and overcome obstacles to climate action, such as effective communication and assessment of climate risk. It will also touch on the power of 'climate stories' in communities.
1:15 PM		Speaker: T.R.W. Hamza Taouzzale	Lord Mayor, City of Westminster
1:30 PM	LUNCH
2:30 PM	Beyond Borders: Eco-Interfaith Alliance (Panel Discussion and Q&A)	Moderator: Dr. Najma Mohamed	Policy Director, Green Economy Coalition	This panel will convene policy experts and faith leaders to discuss the role of religious leadership in climate action in the Global South. The discussion will explore the effectiveness of faith-led initiatives, and why it would be important for European organizations to engage in the Global South and what major obstacles impede improved North-South cooperation on climate change. European faith leaders will also get a better sense of how they can be more involved in the policymaking space, and practical approaches to faith-based climate action in the region.
		Panelist 1: Carlos Zepeda	Asst. Director of Policy & Practice at the Laudato Si' Research Institute, Uni of Oxford
		Panelist 2: Alyssa Gilbert	Chair of the COP26 Universities Network
		Panelist 3: Revd Canon Dr Charlotte Bannister-Parker	Associate Priest of the University Church of St Mary the Virgin, Oxford
4:00 PM	EVENING PRAYER BREAK
4:15 PM	Sacred Art: Wildlife Photography Showcase	Speaker: Sheikh Mustafidh Gani	Wildlife Photographer, Filmmaker and Entrepreneur
4:30 PM	The Green Screen: Digital Advocacy and Outreach (Workshop)	Speaker: Jessica Roland	Senior Specialist for Inclusive Peace, NRTP	Utilising online resource for mobilization and messaging is effective, particularly with young adherents. Training religious leaders in e-advocacy, and utilizing social media will enable them to lobby for climate action, as well as deliver spiritual content to a wider, younger audience. This session will examine how religious leaders, from the most senior to local clerics, can be part of creating change in their communities through adapting to and adopting modern innovations.
		Speaker: Dr. Sneha Roy	British Academy Postdoctoral Research Fellow
6:00 PM	CLOSING STATEMENTS			